Letter of Intent: May 15, 2019
Full Application: May 22, 2019

Opportunity Summary:
In this solicitation, the NSF ADVANCE program seeks to build on prior NSF ADVANCE work and other research and literature concerning gender, racial, and ethnic equity to meet the program goal of broadening the implementation of evidence-based systemic change strategies that promote equity for STEM faculty in academic workplaces and the academic profession.

All NSF ADVANCE proposals are expected to use intersectional approaches in the design of systemic change strategies for STEM faculty in recognition that gender, race and ethnicity do not exist in isolation from each other and from other categories of social identity.

Open competitions:
- Adaptation track: designed to support the work to adapt, implement, and evaluate evidence-based systemic change strategies that have been shown to promote gender equity for STEM faculty in academic workplaces and the academic profession; up to $1,000,000 for three years.
- Partnership track: designed to support the work to facilitate the broader adaptation of gender equity and systemic change strategies; up to $1,000,000 for three to five years.

February 26th 2pm-3:30pm EDT: The ADVANCE program office will hold a technical assistance webinar on preparing proposals for the new ADVANCE solicitation NSF 19-552. More information on the webinar and the link to register can be found under NSF events ADVANCE Program - proposal preparation technical assistance webinar. A recorded version of the webinar will be linked here about one week after the webinar.

Eligibility & Requirements:
- Adaptation projects must include all the STEM disciplines at the institution.
- Adaptation proposals accepted from IHEs that have NOT had an ADVANCE IT or Adaptation award.
- Organizations can submit one proposal to the Adaptation competition and be a partner on one or more Partnership proposals.
- Organizations can lead only one Partnership proposal, but may be partners on multiple ADVANCE Partnership proposals.
