Estimated Award Amount: $750
JHU Nomination Limit: 2
For More Detailed Information Click Here

Deadlines:
- Internal Application: January 19, 2021
- Full Application: February 16, 2021

Opportunity Summary:
The Anderson Award honors the best doctoral dissertation in the general field of federalism or intergovernmental relations, state and local politics.

The award is presented at the APSA Annual Meeting and carries a cash prize of $750.

The award was set up in honor of William Anderson, former APSA president, who was a leading American authority in the areas of local government, public administration, intergovernmental relations and the history of political science. He did much to shape teaching and research in these fields not only at his own university, but throughout the country. The award is presented at the APSA Annual Meeting and carries a cash prize of $750.

Eligibility & Requirements:
- Nominees do not have to be members of APSA, affiliated with an institution in the United States, or an American citizen in order to be considered for an award.
- Dissertations must have been successfully defended within the previous two calendar years.
- Self-nominations are accepted. Nominations from non-PhD departments and institutions are also welcome if the nominee is currently employed there.
- APSA will accept up to two nominations for the Anderson Award per school or political science department.

Internal Nomination Process:
Interested applicants should submit the following documents:

1. JHU Limited Submission Cover Sheet
2. Dissertation abstract
3. Curriculum Vitae of investigator, including current external research support and publications

Questions? Comments? Email the Research Development Team at resapp@jhu.edu.