Opportunity Summary:
The Strauss Award honors the best doctoral dissertation in the field of political philosophy.

The award is presented at the APSA Annual Meeting and carries a cash prize of $750.

The award was developed by former students of Strauss' who sought to recognize his extraordinary influence on generations of students and his contributions to the field of political philosophy. He was a major figure in the department of political science at the University of Chicago, where he taught from 1949 to 1967. The award is presented at the APSA Annual Meeting and carries a cash prize of $750.

Eligibility & Requirements:
- Nominees do not have to be members of APSA, affiliated with an institution in the United States, or an American citizen in order to be considered for an award.
- Dissertations must have been successfully defended within the previous two calendar years.
- Self-nominations are accepted. Nominations from non-PhD departments and institutions are also welcome if the nominee is currently employed there.
- APSA will accept only one nomination for the Strauss Award per school or political science department.

Internal Nomination Process:
Interested applicants should submit the following documents:

1. JHU Limited Submission Cover Sheet
2. Dissertation abstract
3. Curriculum Vitae of investigator, including current external research support and publications

Questions? Comments? Email the Research Development Team at resapp@jhu.edu.