Deadlines:

Internal Application: August 13, 2021

Full Application: September 30, 2021

Opportunity Summary:

The Robert J. Kleberg, Jr. and Helen C. Kleberg Foundation is seeking highly innovative and groundbreaking medical research proposals in both basic biological and applied research that will have the greatest impact on scientific knowledge and human health.

The Foundation focuses on basic science and some translational - not clinical research.

Proposals should be distinctive and novel in their approaches, question the prevailing paradigm, and lead to advancement of knowledge in the field. A highly qualified scientific advisory committee will review all proposals.

Prior JHU grantees: Hiromi Sesaki (2018), Konstantinos Konstantopoulos (2011), Sean Sun (2011)
